- Political candidate contributions are not tax-deductible.
- If you contribute a cumulative total of $25 or more to my campaign, you need to provide your actual street address. We don’t have to report it, but, by law, we have to put it in our records.
- If you contribute a cumulative total of $100 or more to my campaign (for example, a check for $50 and then a later check for $75 from you), you need to state your employer and occupation. By law, we have to report this information along with your street address to the County Elections office as part of our Form 460. This information is public, but not necessarily online.
- To make things simpler for our tracking, please provide the street address, employer, and occupation information no matter what the amount.
